Summary

With the long-awaited pullback, we are at last in a position to start looking ahead to plan some longer-term trades with a view to taking approximately 270 points.

It is not uncommon with the FTSE that when you get a run of the significant bull or bearish candles, you do get the odd reversal candle for a day before resuming the downward trend.

Various economic events are coming out such as inflation figures for the US and Purchasing Manager Index, so if you are confident with those, they could be useful in helping you to optimize your trade entry point.
